-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 14 December 2004.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office Action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on October 12, 2004 has been entered. Claims 1-12 are still pending in the present application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office Action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Greene et al.
(U.S. Patent # 6,212,177 B1).

Consider claims 1, 5, and 9, Greene et al. clearly show and disclose a method and a remote access system (mobile turret system) (figure 1) including a virtual turret side (i.e., office switching network 10 and trader turrets 12, 13) composed of a first general-purpose personal computer (column 2 lines 15-40) and a mobile turret side composed of a personal (second general-purpose) computer 20 and a telephone 28 in a financial trading network (dealing communication system) (figure 1, column 1 lines 5-12, and column 2 lines 42-61), comprising:

starting means/unit (i.e., personal computer 20, mouse 24, Internet 26, telephone 28, and public switching telephone network (PSTN) 29) (figure 1) for, when a remote computing start operation is performed at said personal (second general-purpose) computer 20, prompting input of a connecting telephone number of said first general-purpose personal computer (column 1 lines 31-50 and column 2 lines 55-61, where the user inputs the telephone number of said first general-purpose personal computer), and upon input of the connecting telephone number, connecting with said first general-purpose personal computer (column 2 lines 15-40) via said telephone 28 on the PSTN 29, and starting said virtual turret (i.e., office switching network 10 and trader turrets 12, 13) on said personal (second general-purpose) computer 20 (abstract, column 1 lines 31-50, column 1 lines 61-65, and column 2 lines 42-61), and connection means/unit (i.e., personal computer 20, Internet 26, telephone 28, and PSTN 29) (figure 1) for, when a connection operation is performed from said telephone 28 to a computer telephony integration (CTI) device (e.g., located in office switching network 10 or the trader turrets 12, 13 (figure 1)) after start of said virtual turret (i.e., office switching network 10 and trader turrets 12, 13) on said personal (second general-purpose) computer 20, displaying an incoming call on said virtual turret (i.e., office switching network 10 and trader turrets 12, 13) started on said personal (second general-purpose) computer 20 and, when responding to the display of said incoming call, thereby communication-connecting said telephone 28 with said

CTI device (e.g., located in office switching network 10 or the trader turrets 12, 13 (figure 1)) (column 1 lines 51-60 and column 3 lines 11-24), wherein said virtual turret side (i.e., office switching network 10 and trader turrets 12, 13) and said mobile turret side are connected by remote computing, and said virtual turret (i.e., office switching network 10 and trader turrets 12, 13) is controlled by operating said mobile turret as if an operation is made at said virtual turret (i.e., office switching network 10 and trader turrets 12, 13) (abstract, figures 1 and 2, column 1 lines 45-60, and column 2 line 42 - column 3 line 24).

Consider claims 2, 6, and 10, and as applied to claims 1, 5, and 9 above, Greene et al. further disclose that said remote access system (mobile turret system) comprises communication connection processing means (office switching network 10) for, in a status where said virtual turret side (i.e., office switching network 10 and trader turrets 12, 13) and said mobile turret side are connected by said remote computing, when a button (e.g., 16, 19 (figure 2)) on said virtual turret is operated, establishing communication connection with a predetermined party corresponding to said button (e.g., 16, 19 (figure 2)) by using said telephone 28, and when a release button on said virtual turret is operated, releasing the communication connection with said predetermined party (figures 1 and 2, column 1 lines 51-60, and column 3 lines 4-24).

Consider claims 3, 4, 7, 8, 11, and 12, and as applied to claims 1, 2, 5, and 9 above, Greene et al. further disclose that said remote access system (mobile turret system) controls an operation system of the virtual turret and/or a voice system of the CTI device (e.g., located in office switching network 10 or the trader turrets 12, 13 (figure 1)) by means of connection and control by remote computing (column 1 line 31 - column 3 line 24).

Double Patenting

3. Applicant is advised that should claim 7 be found allowable, claim 8 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments, filed on October 12, 2004, with respect to claims 1, 5, and 9, on page 8-10 of the remarks, have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection necessitated by the new limitations added to claims 1, 5, and 9. See the above rejection of claims 1, 5, and 9 for the relevant citations found in Greene et al. disclosing the newly added limitations.
